Meet Lambchop

Lambchop arrived at the APA when no one else was willing to help. He was very sick with parvo, sarcoptic mange, and an infestation of fleas that caused painful itching to his skin. But he was a fighter, and we wouldn't give up on him. With expert medical care and lots of TLC, Lambchop slowly recovered. Check out his full story and extraordinary transformation on our website. apamo.org/Lambchop

Toast's Story

Abandoned as a tiny kitten, Toast had a rough beginning. Injured and at risk of a life-threatening infection, Toast was brought to the APA after being found by a kind woman and her young son. Thanks to the expertise of the APA team, he was nursed back to health and has a wonderful, new life with a family who loves him.

"He is our first family pet and we couldn't imagine our lives without him!" - Toast's Family
